The Product of Independent Thinking

Why Independent Agents Prefer Safety

Whether you own or lease your automobile, you need to safeguard your vehicle for damage, theft, and personal liability. More importantly, you need to protect your independence.

After all, nothing in the world gives you the kind of mobility, to come and go as you please, like your automobile.

That is why many independent thinkers like you come to independent insurance agents for auto insurance:

- You expect more for your money
- More personal attention
- Better products and services
- Faster claims handling

Independent insurance agents have the expertise and are committed to help you select the best insurance products on the market. They also do more than advise on the best insurance. If a loss occurs they stand with you until the claim is settled.

So if you have come to an independent agent for any of these reasons, you have made a good decision.

With Safety Insurance, independent insurance agents have just what they need to safeguard your independence - their independence.

Since 1980, Safety Insurance has striven to be the preferred provider of property and casualty insurance in Massachusetts, mainly by focusing on the unique needs of independent insurance agents and their customers like you.

Safety's success is built on a philosophy of offering the highest quality insurance products at competitive rates and providing the best service at all costs. Every employee of Safety, from the knowledgeable marketing representatives to the experienced underwriters and claims adjusters, aims to ensure that independent agents and their customers receive the highest standard of service.

As a result, Safety Insurance consistently maintains an "A" (Excellent) rating by A.M. Best Company, one of the nation's leading independent rating services.

An extra measure of Safety

For additional liability protection, you can purchase a separate Umbrella Policy in conjunction with your Personal Auto Policy. Umbrella coverage increases your liability coverage over and above normal policy limits.

No speed limit on service

Safety not only believes that exceptional customer service is paramount to success, they put that belief into practice. Safety's claims professionals expeditiously and fairly resolve your claim and help you quickly recover any losses you may sustain.

Special credits

Safety offers savings for multiple car policies. Safety offers additional savings when you have both your auto and homeowners insurance with Safety. Talk to your independent insurance agent to see if you qualify.
